

ROGERS CENTRE DIRECTIONS AND PARKING INFORMATION

At the corner of Front and John Streets, west of the CN Tower, Rogers Centre is just a short walk from Union Station (subway and train station).

Just north of Toronto's Harbourfront, Rogers Centre is also accessible from Lakeshore Blvd. at the Spadina Avenue exit.

Directions from within Toronto

Public transit is just walking distance away from The Rogers Centre facility. Subway stations close by are: Union Station (also a GO Transit station) and St. Andrews Station. From Union Station, walk west along the south side of Front Street to Rogers Centre or take the convenient SkyWalk which will lead you to the foot of the CN Tower (next door to Rogers Centre). The King Street streetcar connects at St. Andrews station and stops at the end of both John Street and Peter Street for access to Rogers Centre. The LRT (Light Rapid Transit) train line runs along Queen's Quay from Union Station and stops at Spadina at the south end of Rogers Centre. The LRT also stops at Rees Street. Walk north on Rees from Queen's Quay to north side of Bremner Blvd. for the Gate 7 entrance to the facility (in use during events only) as well as Rogers Centre Box Office.

For more information on routes and schedules call the TTC (Toronto Transit Commission) at (416) 393-INFO or (416) 393-TONE for the hearing impaired.

Directions from Outside of Toronto

West of Toronto: Just 20 minutes by car from Pearson International Airport, Rogers Centre can be reached by taking the 427 south to the QEW (Queen Elizabeth Way) highway (eastbound) to downtown Toronto. The QEW divides into the Gardiner Expressway and Lakeshore Blvd. - both of which will take you to Rogers Centre facility. Take the Spadina Ave exit (north) from the Gardiner Expressway or the Rees St. (north) exit from Lakeshore Blvd. to Rogers Centre.

East of Toronto: If visiting Toronto via Highway 401 (the MacDonald Cartier Freeway), exit at the Don Valley Parkway southbound to the Gardiner Expressway west to the Spadina Avenue exit (north) to Rogers Centre.

Parking

There are thousands of parking spaces underground and around the area close to Rogers Centre.

Alternate parking is available north of Rogers Centre along Front Street or south of Rogers Centre along Queens Quay. Our designated pick-up and drop off location is at Gate 7 which is on the south side of Rogers Centre on Bremner Blvd. Elevator service is available at this location.
